— How the Key Ingredients Work

Everflex with Hyaluronic Acid brings together four well-studied ingredients that your joints, cartilage, and connective tissue rely on every day. Together they work to cushion, support, and nourish the moving parts of your body so you can stay comfortable and active.

Glucosamine — Think of glucosamine as a building block your body uses to keep cartilage healthy and resilient. It occurs naturally in your joints, and topping up your levels may help ease everyday joint discomfort, support smoother movement, and keep the cushioning tissue between your bones in good shape — especially as you get older.

MSM (Methylsulfonylmethane) — MSM is a naturally occurring sulfur compound found in plants, animals, and the human body. Sulfur is a key raw material for building the connective tissue that holds your joints together. Studies show MSM may help reduce joint pain and stiffness and support better physical function, making it a popular choice for people who want to stay active and comfortable.

Chondroitin — Chondroitin is a natural substance found throughout your cartilage and other connective tissues. It helps cartilage hold onto water, keeping it springy and shock-absorbing. Research suggests it may modestly reduce joint pain and help protect cartilage over time, working especially well alongside glucosamine to support overall joint health and mobility.

Hyaluronic Acid — Hyaluronic acid is your body's natural joint lubricant — it is a key part of the fluid that surrounds and cushions your joints. Levels can decline with age, leaving joints feeling less smooth and comfortable. Supplementing with hyaluronic acid helps support that natural cushioning effect, promoting easier, more comfortable movement in everyday life.
